The History of Rome.

By WILHELM IHNE.

"It is impossible that any one can read these volumes without having his sense of truth strengthened, without acquiring a clearer knowledge of the nature of evidence, and a wider view of that great history of the human mind in which the history of Rome is but a single page. We can point to few historical works which are more delightful, certainly to none more wholesome, more accurate, or more true." —Saturday Review.

THE TRAVELLER'S MANUAL OF CONVERSATION in English, German, French, and Italian. Nineteenth Edition. 1869 3 0

"Baedeker is, as is well known, a singularly accurate and useful guide . . . his information is comprehensive, minute, and carefully compiled."—Pall Mall Gazette.

"More convenient in form . . . than the red books of Albemarle Street, the red books of Coblenz are handier for the pocket or the knapsack, and are terser and more to the point in their style."—Spectator.

"We can cordially recommend Baedeker's Handbook, as at once convenient in size, and, at the same time, comprehensive and accurate in its details."—Daily Herald.

"Baedeker's Paris is an excellent book for nine out of every ten visitors to Paris. It tells all they want, and not more than they want. . . . Although it contains much letter-press, it will really go easily into the pocket. The maps are very ingeniously managed."—Reader.

"We should be inclined to prefer Baedeker, who judiciously notes briefly the more essential points, but has not room to distract you with too many particulars; and you are not tempted to waste time in reading when you should be looking. . . . The numerous maps and plans of cities with which the work is furnished are the best and most conveniently arranged we have ever seen in a guide-book."—Scotsman.

"For all who do not care for elaborate description, doubtful criticism and a profusion of historical reminiscences . . . there are no guide-books like Baedeker's. They are of convenient size, contain everything that the ordinary traveller wants to know, told accurately, sensibly, and succinctly."—Nation.
